

HIGH INVENTORY DAMPENS REAL ESTATE MARKET IN REGINA

Local market conditions favour buyers

REGINA, July 9, 2014 – The Royal LePage House Price Survey and Market Survey Forecast released today showed slight year-over-year price increases across housing types surveyed in Regina.

The average price for standard condominiums inched higher during the quarter, rising 2.7 per cent year-over-year to $211,000. Meanwhile, the average price for standard two-storey homes increased 2.6 per cent year-over-year to $372,500 while detached bungalows increased by 1.1 per cent to $333,500.

“We are seeing marginal price increases in Regina due to higher than normal inventory levels, which is made up of both resale and new construction units,” said Mike Duggleby, broker and managing partner, Royal LePage Regina Realty. “Sales volumes are tracking consistent with 2013 levels, but the elevated supply of homes is helping buyers and keeping prices in check. Sales activity remains fairly strong thus I expect inventory will return to normal levels, which in turn will allow the market to resume a more regular price growth.”

Looking forward, Royal LePage forecasts that average house prices in Regina will increase by 2.1 per cent for the balance of 2014.

Nationally, with the harsh winter now a fading memory, the average price of a home in Canada increased between 3.9 and 5.2 per cent in the second quarter of 2014. According to Royal LePage, price increases were posted across housing types, with detached bungalows seeing the highest year-over-year gains, rising 5.2 per cent to an average price of $406,454. Meanwhile, standard two-storey homes rose 5.1 per cent year-over-year to $440,972, while standard condominiums posted gains of 3.9 per cent to $258,501.

"Chronic supply shortages are driving price spikes in Canada's major cities, masking otherwise moderate home price appreciation nationally," said Phil Soper, president and chief executive of Royal LePage. "While a widening affordability gap in Canada's largest urban centres is characterizing the national market Canadians read about daily, year-over-year house price increases in most regions of the country are presently tracking below the historical average."

Looking ahead at the remainder of 2014, Royal LePage is projecting that the national average house price will increase at 5.1% per cent for the full-year.

"Compared to other major forecasts, our year-beginning national outlook predicted a higher level of 2014 average price appreciation, yet supply constraints in a handful of our largest cities necessitate a revision upwards," noted Soper. "Looking ahead to 2015, we expect house prices to track more closely to the rate of general economic growth. That is, we see price increases in Canada's largest cities moderating, just as our smaller city markets should see a lift."
