

SAINT JOHN HOUSING MARKET REMAINS RELATIVELY FLAT IN THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 2014

Increased inventories encourage a buyers' market in the region

SAINT JOHN, January 14, 2015 – The Royal LePage House Price Survey and Market Survey Forecast released today showed mixed results year-over-year for the Saint John market, as the average price of detached bungalows increased 3.4 per cent to $172,935 while standard two-storey homes increased 1.7 per cent to $239,600. Standard condominiums saw a slight increase of 0.1 per cent to $163,985.

“Saint John has seen high inventory levels over the past year which has allowed buyers to be very selective and aggressive with their offers,” said Steve Hughson, Manager, Royal LePage Atlantic Saint John & Sussex.

According to Hughson, new mortgage rules are making it more difficult for would-be buyers, even in the current low interest rate environment.

Looking ahead to 2015, Hughson is encouraged by the strong December finish, and sees it as a sign of market improvement.

Nationally, average home prices showed modest to healthy year-over-year gains in most markets in the fourth quarter of 2014.

During the quarter, the average price of a home in Canada increased between 4.5 per cent and 6.7 per cent year-over-year. The average price of detached bungalows rose 6.7 per cent to $406,218, while standard two-storey homes increased 6.0 per cent to $443,379, and standard condominiums saw a 4.5 per cent increase to $257,624. Against the backdrop of a decidedly mixed macroeconomic environment at home and abroad, Royal LePage expects home prices to increase moderately in 2015, forecasting a 2.9 per cent national increase for the year ahead.

“In the fourth quarter of 2014, real estate markets unfolded as we anticipated, with modest year-over-year price changes in most regions contrasted against continued steep price increases in Western Canada and Greater Toronto,” said Phil Soper, president and chief executive of Royal

LePage. “This follows a similar trend observed in the third quarter of 2014, when we predicted the beginning of a cyclical slowing in home price appreciation, to a pace that better reflects broad economic factors.”

“For our 2015 forecast, we could not ignore the potential impact of the steep decline in the price of oil on housing markets across Canada,” continued Soper. “In the immediate term we anticipate that the natural slowing of home price appreciation we called for in the third quarter of 2014 will be delayed in Central Canada and accelerated in the West by recent developments in the energy sector. Meanwhile in Atlantic Canada, buyers should continue to have the upper hand, with home prices across the region forecast to rise below general inflation.”

About the Royal LePage House Price Survey

The Royal LePage House Price Survey is the largest, most comprehensive study of its kind in Canada, with information on seven types of housing in over 250 neighbourhoods from coast to coast. This release references an abbreviated version of the survey which highlights house price trends for the three most common types of housing in Canada in 90 communities across the country. A complete database of past and present surveys is available on the Royal LePage website at www.royallepage.ca. Current figures will be updated following the complete tabulation of the data for the fourth quarter of 2014. A printable version of the fourth quarter 2014 survey will be available online on February 9, 2015. Housing values in the Royal LePage House Price Survey are Royal LePage opinions of fair market value in each location, based on local data and market knowledge provided by Royal LePage residential real estate experts.
