

ORGANIZATIONAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Dione Irwin Real Estate joins the Royal LePage Network Airdrie, Alberta

To: Royal LePage Broker/Owners, Managers and Administrators

It's a coming home of sorts for Paul Seib and Dione Irwin, a husband and wife team, whom along with a team of agents, have re-established their affiliation with Royal LePage under the new brokerage name Royal LePage Innovate. The change is effective August 10.

Paul and Dione began their careers with Royal LePage Ram Realty in the late 2000s before moving on and more recently establishing their own Brokerage Dione Irwin Real Estate Inc. In the last two years, they have grown the Brokerage to 10 agents. They have the distinction as the most productive brokerage on a per agent basis in Airdrie, which has a population of just over 61,000 and is located just north of Calgary.

Young, energetic and determined to grow their business, owners Paul and Dione intend to leverage Royal LePage's brand, tools and training opportunities. "With our business philosophy of 'Clients First' and ample experience within our team, we are confident that we can grow the Royal LePage brand within the communities we serve," says Paul. "We operate in wide area including Airdrie, Calgary, Carstairs, Crossfield, Didsbury, Irricana, Chestermere and Cochrane," adds Dione, noting there is a tremendous opportunity for growth.

Royal LePage Innovate operates from two locations:
